The graph illustrates the growth of the U.S. workforce over a 50-year period. The workforce starts at approximately 1.5 million in 1960 and rises to about 2.0 million by 1965. It then experiences a sharp increase, peaking at nearly 6.0 million around 1970. Following this peak, there is a period of relative stability, with the workforce fluctuating between 4.0 and 5.0 million until the late 1990s. After 2000, the workforce begins to decline, reaching approximately 1.0 million by 2010.
