

PvLEA4_k4_sol0_im1.11392646662_en210.652667369
MFQTAAADKLAAAKD~~T~~V~~V~~D~~T~~LCSAKD~~T~~VKE~~K~~VVGAKDATADYLGEEKKEQMRD

	A0101	A0201	A1101	A2601	B1501	B4001
A0101
A0201
A1101
A2601
B1501
B4001

The graph illustrates the growth of the U.S. workforce over a 50-year period. The workforce starts at approximately 1.5 million in 1960, rises to about 3.0 million by 1970, and then continues to grow with some fluctuations, reaching a peak of nearly 5.0 million around 2000. After 2000, the workforce begins to decline, ending at approximately 3.0 million in 2010.

Year	Number of People (Millions)
1960	1.5
1970	3.0
1980	3.5
1990	3.0
2000	4.8
2010	3.0